

Desktop and iPad games for Autism: What's out there?

A review of evidence-based products

The Let's Face It! Program

Age: 8-15 years

Cost: Free

Type of Game: Desktop game

Where to use: Home or Clinic

Skills it improves: Analytic & holistic face processing skills

Look in My Eyes: Steam Train

Age: 4 and up

Cost: $3.99

Type of Game: iPad App

Where to use: Home

Skills it improves: Eye contact skills, concentration skills, & focus skills

FaceSay

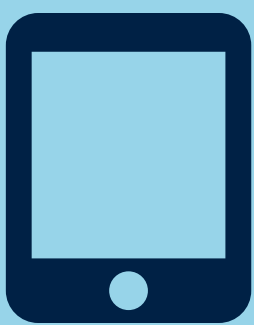

Age: 6-15 years

Cost: $103-$459

Type of Game: Desktop game

Where to use: Home or Clinic

Skills it improves: Emotion and facial recognition skills, & social interaction skills

Learning With Rufus: Emotions

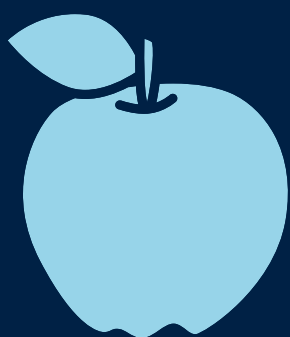

Age: 4 and up

Cost: $6.99

Type of Gam: iPad App

Where to use: Home

Skills it improves: Emotional and facial recognition skills, & social skills

Teach Town

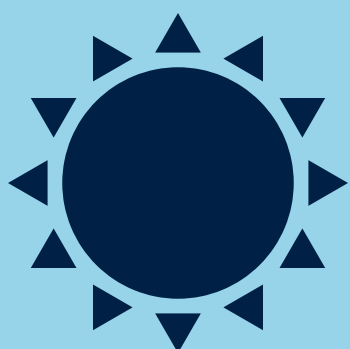

Age: 18 months - 15 years

Cost: $300/year

Type of Game: Desktop game

Where to use: Clinic or school

Skills it improves: Social skills, emotion recognition skills, & communication skills

Model Me Going Places

Age: 4 and up

Cost: Free

Type of Game: iPad App

Where to use: Home

Skills it improves: Social skills, cognitive skills, & daily task skills

TOBY

Age: 5-7

Cost: $3.99 + in app purchases

Type of Game: iPad App

Where to use: Home

Skills it improves: Social skills, cognitive skills, & communication skills